Architectural Policies conference
EFAP General Assembly
21-22 September 2017, Tallinn, Estonia

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Venue

Architectural Policies conference will be held at Vabalava \(Open Space\) theatre in Telliskivi Loomelinnak \(Creative City\). Telliskivi Creative City is an old industrial territory springing to life, where the existing architecture is continuously finding new and alternative functions. This kind of setting is an excellent precondition for unique and innovative solutions. Currently there are over 200 businesses, companies and NGOs operating on the premises. People quickly came to embrace the location for leisure activities, making it a daily destination for locals and visitors alike. Telliskivi extends the Tallinn downtown across the railway tracks, offering a cosy and artistic alternative to the sights and nightlife of the Old Town.

Working language

The working language of the Architectural Policies conference is English. Translation to French will be also provided.

Registration and Accreditation for Participants

The accreditation is open until 12 September. You can register via the following LINK.

All participants will receive a confirmation message following successful registration, allowing access to the Presidency Gateway information system, where all practical info and programme updates will be found.
